

The Past and Future of Biblical Israel

In September of 2010, another round of peace talks began between Israel and the Palestinians. International pressure has increased dramatically in recent months, with flash points focused on Iran and the aftermath of the Gaza flotilla. International attention is focused on the Jewish communities in Judea and Samaria, the so-called "settlements."

Sondra Oster Baras, a resident of Samaria, a former attorney and a student of the Bible, will update audiences on the challenges facing Israel today. Baras will provide audiences with a historical and biblical perspective on the settlement movement, will comment on the ramifications of the recent launch of peace talks and will share Biblical insights that reflect on the current situation in Israel today. Join us for what promises to be a fascinating insight into Israel's spiritual and physical realities, from both a current and a biblical perspective.
